A 3D isometric illustration of a cube. The cube is composed of several nested layers of different colors and textures. The outermost layer is a dark red/maroon color. Inside this is a light gray layer, followed by a dark blue layer, a gold/yellow layer, and a white layer. The top face of the cube is a textured red color. The right face of the cube is covered in a gray grid pattern, resembling a wireframe or a mesh. The entire cube is set against a solid orange background.
